Wednesday, May 10 1704.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated May 16.

Vienna, May 2.

Prince Eugene of Savoy is preparing to set out from hence in a few days, to command an Army on the Danube against the Elector of Bavaria: While Prince Lewis of Baden observes the French on the Rhine. General Palfi, Ban of Croatia, arriv'd here the 1st instant with Advice, that the Malecontents who were very numerous in the Island Schut, having Intelligence that General Heister was coming to attack them, retir'd all but 400 Men, part of which being cut in pieces, the rest retir'd with Precipitation, so that now they have no Troops either on that Island or on this side the Danube. 'Tis advis'd that Erla has not yet surrendered, as was reported, but had agreed with the Besiegers to a Cessation of Arms for 8 Days. Above 1000 Croats having abandon'd their General, carry'd off a great number of Cartle from about Alba Regalis, whereupon 500 Hungarians, who were not of the Malecontented Party, drawing together to oppose them, the Croats surrounded them and put them all to the Sword.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated May 16.

Turin, May 2. The 27th of last Month his Royal Highness went from hence, accompanied by Count Staremberg, to Crescentino, the Place appointed for the general Rendezvous of the Troops; In his way he took a View of several Places, and 'tis said the Army will encamp to day at Palazuolo. Yesterday 12 Pieces of Caanon, all 12 Pounders, were sent from hence: As also a great number of Bombs. The Detachment that made an Inroad into Savoy, is return'd, having rais'd the Blockade of Montmeilan, and have brought with them the Peasants which the French had list'd and form'd into 2 Battallions. The Troops that were sent to reinforce the Garrison of Nice are likewise return'd, the French that were advanc'd to Antibes having march'd back. The Duke of Vendome has not drawn his Army together yet; mean time an Exchange of Prisoners is made. To day 100 French Prisoners were brought higher.

Milan, April 16. An Officer sent by General Toralba, from the Valteline, arriv'd here some days ago, with the News that he had defeated the Marquis Davia and pursued him 18 Miles, in which Pursuit he took several Waggons loaded with Booty, kill'd some of the Imperialists, and took others Prisoners.

Venice, May 3. We have certain Advice from Casal, that the French have undermin'd the Castle of Asti, with Design to blow up the Fortifications when they quit that Place. The Marquis Davia return'd from the Valteline with 183 Horse, and some Booty, to Trent, and from thence is come back by the Val Polifella to the Camp of Ostiglia. The Marquis of Barbezieres being set at Liberty in Virtue of an Exchange made of Prisoners, has pass'd through Verona in his return to France. 'Tis believ'd Colonel Paul Diack was included in that Exchange, and will accordingly be set at Liberty. The Grand Prior is at Mantua; he has sent a Detachment of 20 Companies of Grenadiers to the Army of the Duke of Vendome. Recruits from Tyrol are arriv'd in the Imperial Army.

From the Upper Alsacia, May 7. 'Tis confidently reported a flying Camp will be form'd near Hunninghen. It appears that the Motions of the Allies towards the Moselle, have given a Turn to the Designs of the French. 'Tis said the Marshal de Tallard will stay 10 or 15 days at Strasburg. 8000 Men arriv'd lately in this Province, and are encamp'd between Strasburg and Zabern; and several thousand Men are still expected, and are to come by Metz.

From Swabia, May 8. All the Advices from the Danube tell us, that a Body of French of 15 Battalions and 16 Squadrons commanded by the Generals d'Arco and de Rosel, are decamp'd from Donawert and advanc'd within a League and a half of Ulm, on this Side the Danube; they pass'd by the Castle of Albreckh, but did not attack it. Another Body of the Enemies Troops, commanded by the Elector of Bavaria and the Marshal de Marfin, has pass'd the Iller at Kirchberg, and is march'd towards Biberach on the other side the Danube. We shall quickly see the Issue of these Motions. 'Tis said the Elector has given orders for another Body to be drawn together between Kehlheim and Ingolstadt, to cover his Country, and endeavour to recover the Upper Palatinate, before the Arrival of the Troops of Prussia. General Stirum who was encamp'd about Nortlingen is march'd towards Heidenheim to follow the Enemies, who seem to have a Design to enter the Country of Wirtemberg. The French 'tis given out are 20000, and the Bavarians 16000 Men strong.

Stutgard, May 9. The Count de Stirum arriv'd to day with the Body of Troops he commands at Sufen near Geppingen. The Prince of Bareith will joyn him tomorrow, and then his Army will be 18000 Men strong. General Thungen encamp'd to day with 12000 Men at Schamberg, a League and a half from Rotweiler, in the Black Forrest, where Count Prosper of Furstemberg is posted with 5000 Men; and to day the Duke of Wirtemberg march'd with 4000 Men to joyn General Thungen at Schamberg. All the Peasants of Wirtemberg, of the Neighbouring Countries, and of the Black Forrest, were order'd to day to repair to Landstrom. In short all things are dispos'd for giving the Enemy a vigorous Reception.

Philipsburg, May 9. Two Dragons well mounted who deserted from Newstad, report, some Works are begun to be mark'd out near that Place; and that the French intend to draw a Line from Newstad, along the Rivuler, to Spies; which will be 12 Leagues long. They add, that there are no Troops come thereabouts yet; but that the greatest Force of the Enemy is drawn together in the Upper Alsacia.

Frankfort, May 11. The Count of Nassau Weilbourg is gone to Mannheim to take a Review of the Troops there. There are Advices which say, that within 7 or 8 days the Marshal de Tallard will attempt to force the Lines of Stohlhoffen with a Body of 15000 Men, while 2 other Attacks are made, one near Philipsburg the other near Mannheim.

Cologne, May 13. The Count de Coignies was to encamp the 7th at Bochenheim, and there wait for his last Orders. The Marshal de Villeroy, is to detach 10000 Men to the Moselle.

Paris, May 7. Yesterday an Express arriv'd from Thoulon, by which we learn, that the rest of the Recruits for our Army in Italy are embark'd. They write from Revere, that they are working on the Fortifications of that Place, and that a certain number of Peasants, with 4 Battallions of French, have invested Mirandola, in which is a Garrison of 1500 Imperialists, who have disarm'd the Inhabitants. The Letters from Brest say nothing of the Count de Thoulouze, but that he was ready to put to Sea when the Courier came away. We have no manner of News from Spain. The Dutchess of Burgundy is very much indispos'd; and has been Let-blood twice within 15 days; the Duke her Husband seldom stirs from her, and the King visits her thrice every day. The last Advices from the Army commanded by the Marshal de Tallard, tell us, that he has been several times to take a View of the Enemies Posts on the Rhine, and that he finds it will be difficult to force them; so that we expect shortly to hear of a very vigorous Action. A Courier from the Marshal de Marfin arriv'd yesterday; the Marshal presses earnestly for Succours.

Maestricht, May 14. The French who have continued hitherto canton'd within their Lines, assembled on Monday and encamp'd at Heilsham; and we have Advice this Morning, that they march'd yesterday to Monserack on this side St. Tron, they are getting all the Boats they can together at Namur, and loading of Cannon with Ammunition and Instruments for removing of Ground; and give out that they design to besiege Huy, tho' tis believ'd that they will hardly attempt it, and that they make these Preparations rather to hinder or retard our March into Germany. Our Detachment under the Command of Brigadier Ferguson, will march from hence tomorrow; and my Lord Duke of Marlborough having concerted and taken the necessary Measures with the Generals here, will follow on Friday, and on Sunday he will joyn all the English Troops at Bedburgh near Cologne, and so pursue his March towards Coblenz.

London, May 10.
